When I was a kid, I was in love with Star Wars. For a few years, I watched those movies at least weekly. My friends and I would get together and play fight with our light sabres (sticks found on the ground or ripped from trees), use the force (of our arms) to hurl whatever was at hand at each other, and tell each other, “I am your father” repeatedly. Baseball helmets and football pads were our armor. Fuzzy blankets showed who was an ewok or wookie. We were kids having a great time pretending to be heroes and villains. And, fortunately, nobody lost an eye.

Dressing up isn’t just for kids these days. Cosplay (short for costume play), as they call it, and all varieties of conventions are now huge events for all ages. Tens and sometimes hundreds of thousands of people gather in just about every major city to celebrate their favorite heroes from movies, comic books, graphic novels, and literature. Costumes are elaborate, celebrities abound, and there is memorabilia galore.

This year, we are bringing a celebration of popular culture to Palos Heights with our first ever Fan Con. Join us on Saturday, September 28th as we embark on a variety of adventures sure to please fanatics of all ages.

If that isn’t enough fun for you, we have an excellent slate of speakers, movies, and activities lined up throughout the months of August and September. Join us to watch local talent perform at our Talent Show on August 8th, or join us for a Painting Party on September 19th. Kids can dance until they drop at our Dance-a-Thon on August 30th and be enthralled by Robin’s Dog Stars on September 21st. And don’t forget to clean out your office and medicine cabinet and bring all of your old paperwork and medications to our annual Paper Shredding and Pill Drop-Off event on August 10th at City Hall.

And speaking of amazing programs, our Summer Reading Programs have just wrapped up. We had over 200 adults and 500 children participate this year! A huge thank you to everyone who made this such a success, especially to all of our sponsors for donating prizes to help make these programs so fun and exciting for everyone who participated. Check out the list of amazing sponsors below, and make sure to thank them for us when you see them!

Jesse Blazek, Library Director
Staff in the Spotlight: Karen S.

How long have you been at the library?
I have been at the library for 24 years.

What is something that a lot of people don’t know about the library?
I have seen many friendships that have been made here either by attending our book talks, clubs, etc. It’s a wonderful place to meet new people as well as reconnect with old friends.

What do you think the library means to this community?
The community is so proud of our library, whether it be the park-like setting of the exterior or the friendliness and knowledge of the staff in the beautiful interior. Countless compliments are given to us on a regular basis.

What is your personal motto?
Find a job you love and you’ll never have to work a day in your life.

PHPL Fan Con

Saturday, Sept. 28, 10 am–5 pm, All Ages
Join us at our first PHPL Fan Con! If you like Doctor Who, Star Wars, Harry Potter, Marvel, or are a fan of any pop culture themes, this event is for you. Visit exhibitors, check out a performance, attend panels and participate in other fun activities throughout the day. Don’t forget to dress up in your best cosplay to show off at our contest and be able to win a prize. This is a free event for all ages! For our patrons who are 21 and older the fun keeps going with our After-Hours Trivia. Stay tuned for more information!

September is Library Card Sign-Up Month!

A library card may be used to check out books, movies, CDs, download free ebooks, digital magazines, access online resources, Museum Adventure Passes and much more. Each person registering for a new library card in September will be entered into a drawing for a special gift. Visit the Circulation Desk to get your new library card.

Fan Con

I am a lifelong fan of Star Wars, Harry Potter, Dr. Who, and superheroes, and I like attending fandom events which celebrate the pop culture of these characters, their movies and their books. I like going to C2E2 and other fandom events of this kind to take in the spectacle and the camaraderie of other fans. There is always a lot to see and do.

“It’s an all-day event for everyone that celebrates pop culture themes including superheroes, sci-fi, and more.”

The library is excited to be hosting its first Fan Con event on Saturday, September 28, 2019. It’s an all-day event for everyone that celebrates pop culture themes including superheroes, sci-fi, and more. There will be exciting panels, artists, and vendors suitable for adults, children, and families. There will also be video game tournaments and a musical performance. Wear a costume and participate in our cosplay showcases – one for adults and one for kids. All that and more will be happening at the PHPL FanCon.

Hopefully that sounds as exciting to you as it does to us. Look for more information and a schedule of events soon!

The Pioneers: The Heroic Story of the Settlers Who Brought the American Ideal West by David McCullough

Pulitzer Prize winning author and historian David McCullough is out with his new non-fiction book The Pioneers. In it, he draws from a rare collection of diaries and letters to tell the story of the settlement of the Ohio River valley through several main characters and their families. After the Revolutionary War, as part of the Treaty of Paris, Great Britain ceded the Northwest Territory to the United States.

"The Pioneers illustrates ... the strength it took for the Cutler and Putnam families to build a new settlement."

Massachusetts minister, Manasseh Cutler, lobbied for congressional support in opening up the area for settlement by Revolutionary War veterans. Revolutionary War General Rufus Putnam led the first band of pioneers from New England to the Northwest Territory, settling what is now Marietta, Ohio. The Pioneers illustrates the hardships of daily life and the strength it took for the Cutler and Putnam families to build a new settlement in the wilderness. McCullough has a gift for bringing history to life through the stories of the people who lived it and this book is no exception. A must read for any American history buff!

Database: CultureGrams

I’ve always loved the outdoors and one of my great memories as a kid was a family road trip to Yellowstone National Park. The entire trip lasted for two to three weeks (over a thousand miles of driving!) and we stopped at many national parks along the way. My family visited famous landmarks, such as Mount Rushmore, and smaller landmarks, like Jewel Cave and Pipestone. It was a great experience, and I learned a lot of history along the way.

“If you want to learn more about these places, try CultureGrams, an online resource you can access for free.”

We have great programs coming up about different landmarks in the US such as the Smoky Mountains and other national parks. If you want to learn more about these places, try CultureGrams, an online resource you can access free with your library card. You can look up amazing facts about different states and even research this handy resource before a big trip for ideas of where to visit. Look under the Online Databases section of the library’s website to start your discoveries on CultureGrams. And while you’re at it, you can learn different facts and customs from cities around the world. See what you can find!

Hilo: Then Everything Went Wrong
by Judd Winnick

Judd Winick has released the much anticipated fifth book of the Hilo graphic novel series. Hilo is a boy robot with superpowers, who was created to protect and save people. At least he thinks he was. Hilo has no memories of what happened in his world before he crash landed on Earth. Razorwark, an evil robot, has tampered with his memories and made him forget everything. Now, Razorwark is coming to Earth in search of Hilo. In order for Hilo to save everyone, he needs to remember who he really is.

Hilo and his friend D.J. travel back to Hilo’s home planet to get his memories back. While there, Hilo sees an old friend from his past and learns that there are no more robots or energy in his city. Fearful that robots would become too powerful and turn on them, the humans have shut down all robots. Who can Hilo trust?

Hilo is action-packed and hilarious. This graphic novel series is perfect for fans of Big Nate and Dog Man.

The Poet X by Elizabeth Acevedo

15-year-old Xiomara Batista uses her poetry as a release from the overwhelming feelings she experiences as she tries to understand where she fits into the world. When she is asked to join a slam poetry club, she knows her mother won’t approve because the group meets at the same time as her Confirmation classes, but slam poetry is the perfect way for her to deal with her frustrations. She has a complicated relationship with her mother. She feels uncomfortable that she has grown into a body that causes men to stare. And she is navigating first loves and how to allow herself to be happy regardless of what others may think. Her emotional and often heartbreaking search for answers of how to be a young girl navigating the expectations of family, the unkindness of society, and the need to follow her own path makes this book a great read for teens and adults.

The Poet X is the debut novel of Elizabeth Acevedo (who published her second book, With the Fire on High, in 2019). The book has won numerous awards including the Printz Award and the Carnegie Medal. It is also a 2020 Lincoln Award nominee.
